"Andreas knows that impossible things just take longer to make happen."

Andreas Dagelet is living proof of the adage you can't keep a good man down! This New Zealand born, Australian naturalised, human dynamo has packed much into his 4 decades.

A former Pilot Officer in the Air Force, this adventurer has worked at everything from Night Club worker, to Bank Officer, Speaker, Architect and Travel Agent. He has also travelled to 49 countries over 5 continents, skydived, scuba dived and flown aerobatic aircraft. The most amazing thing about Andreas is that most of these achievements have been accomplished on his wheelchair!

After breaking his back in 1995 in an act of self-confessed foolishness involving a large tree and the force of gravity, Andreas took on the challenge of a major physical disability with the same vigour he gave to all his earlier ventures. His greatest dream is to help as many people as he can reach their potential.
